

EAGE

EUROPEAN ASSOCIATION OF GEOSCIENTISTS AND ENGINEERS

Jean Jacques Biteau
President EAGE

WWW.EAGE.ORG

EAGE was founded in 1951

It is a professional not-for-profit association for geoscientists & engineers

EAGE provides a global network of commercial and academic professionals, with approximately 19,000 members

two divisions:

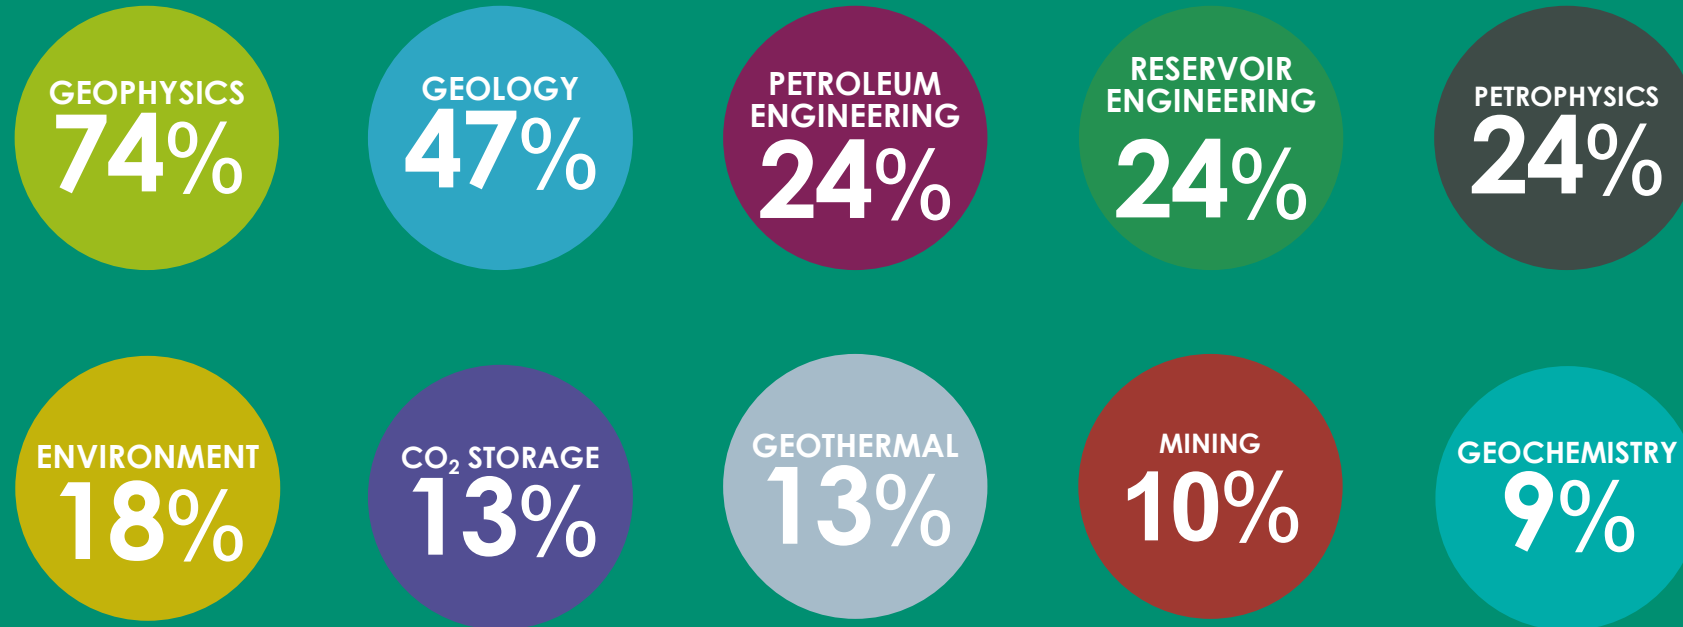

- Oil & Gas Geoscience
- Near Surface Geoscience

- To promote the development and application of geosciences and related engineering subjects
- To promote innovation and technical progress
- To foster the communication, fellowship and cooperation between those working in, studying or otherwise interested in these fields.

PROFESSIONAL INTEREST OF EAGE MEMBERS (as a percentage of membership base)

- Membership
- Communities
- Events
- Publications
- Student Activities
- Education
- Support Programmes

The poster features a dark blue background with a white wireframe globe. At the top left, the EAGE logo is displayed in a blue box, with 'INCLUDING EUROPEC' below it. The central text reads 'SAVE THE DATE 3-6 JUNE 2019' in white and blue. Below this is a large red speech bubble containing '2019' and the words 'EAGE ANNUAL' in large white letters. Underneath, it says '81ST CONFERENCE + EXHIBITION' and 'LONDON | UNITED KINGDOM' in a red box. At the bottom, the tagline 'EMBRACING CHANGE - CREATIVITY FOR THE FUTURE' is written in white. The footer includes logos for bp, Shell, and Saudi Aramco, along with the date '3-6 JUNE 2019' and the website 'WWW.EAGEANNUAL2019.ORG'.

- One of the largest multi-disciplinary geoscience events in the world
- 7,000+ delegates
- 350 exhibitors (companies, universities, societies)
- Extensive technical programme, student programme, workshops and field trips